A Strong local brands can become global ones. As a result, they can export the best of our culture while strengthening our economy. Due to the fact that global brands dominate everywhere, local businesses are at risk. People lose jobs. As they no longer have jobs, they spend less. Consequently, other businesses feel the impact. Our government should help local brands expand to compete globally. Thanks to the internet, even small businesses can reach international markets quickly. Let's support local brands that have the potential to go global.

2 REAL-WORLD STRATEGY: Sharing experiences

A Lucia Once I was on a boat. I took off my bracelet and it fell in the lake. That was the end of that bracelet! Has that ever happened to you?

Renata Well, I didn't lose something in a lake, but that reminds me of a story. That's like the time that I lost my sun glasses. I'd put them on the top of the car. I started driving. Then I realized I wasn't wearing them. When I got out of the car, they weren't there any more.

Diego You know, I had a similar experience once, but in my case I had left my house keys on top of the car. When I got home, I had to break the window to get into the house.

3 FUNCTIONAL LANGUAGE AND REAL-WORLD STRATEGY

A Possible answer

Amanda Do you remember that time I broke my ankle on the bike trip?

Pedro That trip's a bit vague for me. I remember going on the bike trip. There were six of us, weren't there?

Amanda Don't tell me you don't remember, Pedro. I broke my ankle. It was terrible. We were going through that lovely village in the mountains and there was a dog on the road.

Pedro Oh yeah, that rings a bell. The dog ran across the road right in front of your bike and you fell off.

Amanda Yeah. And all of you stopped. And I couldn't get up because my ankle was killing me.

Pedro Yeah, it's all coming back to me now. A man at the small gas station came out and helped you to get into his car and he took you to a small hospital nearby. We followed on our bikes. You had a broken ankle and couldn't continue with us. You flew home and the five of us went on. Everything was fine after that, except that we missed you, of course. Accidents on a trip aren't fun. Has that ever happened to you, Manuel?

Manuel That reminds me of a story, but not with a bike. That's like the time that I fell off a horse because something scared it. But I didn't break anything, thankfully. My shoulder hurt a little, but that was it.

Pedro You know, I had a similar experience once with a horse. My horse threw me, too. I hurt my wrist, but I didn't break it.
